- 25X1X 2. An engineer training camp near RINGFURTH was occupied by only a guard detail. Local residents stated that daily river crossing and bridge building practices were held on the bend of the Elbe River between RINGFURTH and POLTE near PANLEY (M 53/Y 82) until mid-August 1949. The exercises were held under simulated wartime conditions, with machine guns and mortars being used.

25X1A [REDACTED] Comment:

Engineer units of the Third Shock Army and possibly GMD engineer units of the Group of Occupation Forces Germany held engineer exercises on the Elbe River in the BITTKAU-RINGFURTH area in June 1949. This information is confirmed by the above report. The engineer exercises were apparently completed by mid-August 1949.
